Objectives and guiding principles of the legislation

(1) The object of this Law is to establish a national registration and accreditation scheme for:

(a) the regulation of health practitioners; and

(b) the registration of students undertaking;

(i) programs of study that provide a qualification for registration in a health profession; or

(ii) clinical training in a health profession.

(2) The objectives of the national registration and accreditation scheme are:

(a) to provide for the protection of the public by ensuring that only health practitioners who are suitably trained and qualified to practise in a competent and ethical manner are registered; and

(b) to facilitate workforce mobility across Australia by reducing the administrative burden for health practitioners wishing to move between participating jurisdictions or to practise in more than one participating jurisdiction; and

(c) to facilitate the provision of high quality education and training of health practitioners; and

(d) to facilitate the rigorous and responsive assessment of overseas-trained health practitioners; and

(e) to facilitate access to services provided by health practitioners in accordance with the public interest; and

(f) to enable the continuous development of a flexible, responsive and sustainable Australian health workforce and to enable innovation in the education of, and service delivery by, health practitioners.

(3) The guiding principles of the national registration and accreditation scheme are as follows:

(a) the scheme is to operate in a transparent, accountable, efficient, effective and fair way;

(b) fees required to be paid under the scheme are to be reasonable having regard to the efficient and effective operation of the scheme;

(c) restrictions on the practice of a health profession are to be imposed under the scheme only if it is necessary to ensure health services are provided safely and are of an appropriate quality.

Section 26 of the National Law sets out the requirement for Health Profession Agreements as follows:

“(1) The National Agency must enter into an agreement (a health profession agreement) with a National Board that makes provision for the following:

(a) the fees that will be payable under this Law by health practitioners and others in respect of the health profession for which the Board is established (including arrangements relating to refunds, waivers, or reductions and penalties for late payment),

(b) the annual budget of the National Board (including the funding arrangements for its committees and accreditation authorities),

(c) the services to be provided to the National Board by the National Agency to enable the National Board to carry out its functions under the national registration and accreditation scheme.”
Section 26(1)(c) is an enabling clause that requires the National Agency to support the National Board in performing its function. This is detailed under section 25, the functions of the National Agency.

Section 25 – Functions of the National Agency

The functions of the National Agency are as follows:

a) to provide administrative assistance and support to the National Boards, and the Boards’ committees, in exercising their functions;

b) in consultation with the National Boards, to develop and administer procedures for the purpose of ensuring the efficient and effective operation of the National Boards;

c) to establish procedures for the development of accreditation standards, registration standards and codes and guidelines approved by National Boards, for the purpose of ensuring the national registration and accreditation scheme operates in accordance with good regulatory practice;

d) to negotiate in good faith with, and attempt to come to an agreement with, each National Board on the terms of a health profession agreement;

l) any other function given to the National Agency by or under this Law.

The National Law in section 32(2) limits the powers of the National Board so that, among other limitations, it cannot enter into contracts. In this regard the National Board may only engage services through the National Agency.

The activities provided for in a health profession agreement must necessarily relate to the functions of a National Board. Section 35 of the National Law details those functions which, with the exception of sub-clause (f), are regulatory functions.
Section 35 – Functions of National Boards

m) in conjunction with the National Agency, to keep up-to-date and publicly accessible national registers of registered health practitioners for the health profession;

n) in conjunction with the National Agency, to keep an up-to-date national register of students for the health profession;

Finance

Part 9 of the National Law regulates finance for the national scheme. Section 208 establishes the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency Fund (the Agency Fund), to be administered by the National Agency. Sections 209-211 provide for the payments into and out of the Agency Fund as well as the investment of money in the Agency Fund.

Financial management duties of the National Agency and National Boards are provided in section 212. Duties are imposed on the National Agency to ensure its financial management and operations are efficient, transparent and accountable and its financial management practices are subject to appropriate internal safeguards.

A National Board is required to ensure its operations are efficient, effective, and economical, and to take any necessary action to ensure the National Agency is able to comply with its financial management responsibilities.

The National Law provides in section 236(1) protection from personal liability for persons who act in good faith in the exercise of functions under the law. Any liability that arises in this regard attaches to the National Agency.

Implement measures to improve efficiency and productivity of AHPRA performance through adoption of contemporary business and service delivery models.

Manage and report costs according to established cost allocation principles.

Cost allocation principles

The main objective of cost allocation is to assign each cost to the activity that is most responsible for the generation of that cost. Some costs can be easily identified and attributed to Boards or AHPRA cost centres based on direct causal relationships. Other common or indirect costs need to be shared using accepted cost allocation methodologies.

The allocation methodology used for indirect costs should meet the following criteria.

- Defensible – able to be scrutinised and tested both internally and externally by all impacted parties.
- Auditable – ready to be tested from a financial perspective by an independent arbitrator.
- Understandable – simple, non-complex and understood by all stakeholders, irrespective of their level of financial acumen.
- Flexible – able to alter its calculations and approach as the structure of costs changes over time.
- Accurate – ensures that all costs required to be passed on are calculated accurately and that data capture is robust to enable all costs to be charged back appropriately.
Cost allocation business rules
The principle of no cross-subsidisation of costs will be maintained.

As a first step, where possible AHPRA will allocate costs directly to Boards. If direct allocation is not possible through the identification of a direct causal relationship, costs will be allocated to the indirect cost pool.

The application of the indirect cost allocation framework may result in different cost allocation percentages each year, depending on changes to inputs to the allocation base.

Outcomes of the cost allocation framework will be described in reports to all National Boards each year and will be used as a basis for determining Boards’ budgets.

AHPRA will not allocate the same cost more than once. That is, the same cost will not be treated as both a direct and shared (allocated) cost. A direct cost will only be attributed once to a Board. A shared cost will only be allocated once across Boards.

AHPRA will identify to all Boards which costs are charged directly and which are allocated to the indirect cost pool. That is, Boards will be given a clear statement of what services are being delivered via either direct charge or indirect cost allocation.

Risk management
Manage a risk management strategy for both AHPRA and the National Boards.

Communicate to National Boards the identification of and mitigation strategies for extreme and high risks.

Implement an internal audit function to improve AHPRA’s management and mitigate risk.

Accreditation
Where accreditation functions are provided by an independent accreditation authority, negotiate and manage an agreement on behalf of the Board for the provision of those functions including any agreed specific projects.

Where the accreditation function is exercised by a committee established by the Board, AHPRA, primarily through its accreditation unit, will support the delivery of the accreditation function.

The accreditation unit will perform the following role:

a) Provide secretariat support to the Board’s Accreditation Committee
b) Support the implementation of the committee’s accreditation processes including the assessment and monitoring of programs of study.

The accreditation unit will operate the function within the agreed budget and achieve agreed objectives. Maintain a current and publicly accessible list of approved programs of study for the profession.

Board work program
Deliver agreed Board-specific work program within agreed priorities, resources and service standards.

Supervised practice program
AHPRA will develop and manage the supervised practice program on behalf of the Board. Detailed arrangements and costs will be agreed with the Board. Alternatively, where the Board intends for arrangements to be managed by external organisations, AHPRA will enter into a contractual arrangement on behalf of the Board.

| Development and implementation of a communications strategy and stakeholder engagement project | There are three main objectives that are intended to be addressed through the development and implementation of a communications strategy
   1. Move from “brand awareness” to “brand consciousness” – practitioners’ first thoughts about professional practice or registration should be “the Board”
   2. The Board should be the most credible and first source of truth for practitioners and the public
   3. The Board’s communications should directly engage with practitioners, rather than being reliant on professional association and stakeholder networks
   - AHPRA to contract with communications consultant
   - Communications consultant to develop communication strategy by August 2014.

| Supervised Practice arrangements | Based on previous arrangements in the profession, graduates are expected to complete a suitable amount of clinical training before being granted general registration.
The Board has developed, and Ministerial Council has approved a Supervised Practice registration standard. The standard will become effective from 1 November 2014, and the Board will look to assume direct responsibility for registrants undertaking a period of supervised practice.
The Supervised practice program requires additional staffing (approx. 0.7 EFT - currently the position of Project Officer is assigned to this project) for implementation and administration of provisional registrants and collation of quarterly reports. The Project Officer will also provide the secretariat for Supervised Practice Committee. | $300,000 (recurrent)
Plus and additional $50,000 for up to 2 sessions of supervisor training |
The Board envisions that the interactions between AHPRA and practitioners will, to the extent possible, occur in an online environment. Funding for this project is intended to cover some of the IT changes that will allow the initial interaction and submission of quarterly reports to occur online.

The Board has received advice from AHPRA that upon completing the tender for a Registration & Compliance System (RCS) that further funds may be required to build the portion related to supervision of registrants. The RCS work will occur as a separate piece of work.

At its May 2014 Board meeting the Board also committed further funds associated with this project for the purpose of providing training for supervisors.

- Board to oversee management of supervised practice
- AHPRA to administer a Board approved supervised practice program.
- AHPRA and Board to agree on policy implementation process that sees the operational process reflect the Board’s policy positions.
- In conjunction with Board and Supervised Practice Committee, AHPRA to develop business as usual model.
- AHPRA to implement online Provisional to General registration portal on Board’s website.
- AHPRA to identify a Lead State or Territory office as a specialist centre for MRP specific registration and/or supervised practice matters.
- AHPRA to contract with approved provider for the provision of supervisor training
- The Board and AHPRA will come to agreement on an appropriate level of staffing, noting that any staffing funded by the Board will be dedicated to MRP supervised practice matters.

The Commonwealth Health Minister and a number of AHMAC members attended the same meeting and "enquired of National Boards" how their contribution to workforce reform had progressed. In April 2013 the Board agreed to form the Workforce Innovation and Reform Working Group and aligned its activities to Health Workforce Australia 2025 Policy proposals that where approved by the Standing Council on Health in November 2012. The approved policy proposals are

  1. Improved productivity through workforce innovation and reform
  2. Improved mechanisms for the provision of efficient training
  3. Addressing barriers and enablers to workforce reform
  4. Streamlining clinical training funding
  5. Considerations for achieving national self-sufficiency

The Working Group has members both from the profession and professional associations, unions and a member from HWA. | Analysis of the impact of radiation licensing legislation on the medical radiation practice workforce (previously joint project with HWA) | This project has been conceived to look at the issues surrounding radiation licensing for medical radiation practitioners. Practitioners in each State and Territory are required to hold some form of radiation license in order to practice. The Australian Radiation Protection and Nuclear Safety Agency through its Radiation Health Committee has provided national codes and guidelines to assist State and Territories in the development of a nationally consistent framework of regulation. While there are national guidelines for radiation, licensing is the responsibility of each State or Territory, and as such the licensing requirements in a State or Territory will reflect how that jurisdiction has interpreted or applied the radiation management framework. The Board intended to work with Health Workforce Australia to understand the differences in radiation licensing requirements with the aim of identifying those differences which enabled the workforce and those differences which acted as a barrier. With this understanding the Board would then be in a position to properly advise the Radiation Health Committee and each State and Territory on the workforce impact of licensing of medical radiation practitioners. Following changes to Health Workforce Australia (HWA) the Board will now develop a Request for Tender for an external organization to undertake a comparative assessment and analysis of Commonwealth, State and Territory Radiation Licensing which will include New Zealand's radiation licensing requirements.

- AHPRA to engage external consultant to review and identify points of difference in the various pieces of legislation
- Consultant to provide analysis of current State and Territory legislation and make comparisons with New Zealand’s radiation management scheme.
- Consultation to provide (or partner with other advisor) on the workforce implications State and Territory radiation licensing legislation.
- Consultant to provide report to Board with recommendations by April 2015. | $200,000          |

Budget Notes

1. Registrant numbers
The registration income is derived from the following assumptions.

- Budgeted registrants invited to renew at next renewal period: 14,461
- Budgeted lapse rate of renewals: 4.0%

2. Board and committee expenses
This covers the meeting costs of the National Board, as well as the registration and notification committees, which have the delegated authority to make decisions about individual practitioners.

Costs include sitting fees, travel and accommodation while attending meetings for the Board.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Total</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>$512,800</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

3. Legal, tribunal costs, and expert advice
Note: These legal costs do not include the significant proportion of the Board’s direct costs (including sitting fees) and a substantial amount of the work of national committees also relates to managing and assessing notifications.

A substantial proportion of the staff costs in each state and territory office relate directly to staff who support work about notifications about practitioners as well as introducing nationally consistent systems and processes to manage notifications.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Total</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>$49,200</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

4. Other direct expenditure
Costs associated with the Board’s work on registration standards, policies and guidelines. See work plan 2014-15.

This includes the following activities:

- a) costs involved in consultation with the community and the profession
- b) engagement of consultants necessary to support the work of the Board
- c) publication of material to guide the profession, such as the Board’s newsletter
- d) Board member professional development
- e) policy development
- f) projects
  - workforce reform and innovation work group
  - examination project
  - stakeholder forums
- g) accreditation expenses including the cost of the Board’s accreditation committee and contribution to the cost of the internal accreditation unit that will perform accreditation functions on behalf of the Board
- h) Supervised practice program
5. Indirect expenditure

Total $1,751,000

Proportion of indirect costs allocated to the Board is 1.70%.

Indirect costs are shared by the National Boards, based on an agreed formula. The percentage is based on an analysis of historical and financial data to estimate the proportion of costs required to regulate the profession. Costs include salaries, systems and communication, property and administration costs.

AHPRA supports the work of the National Boards by employing all staff and providing systems and infrastructure to manage core regulatory functions (registration, notifications, compliance, accreditation and professional standards), as well as the support services necessary to run a national organisation with eight state and territory offices, and support all National Boards and their committees.

The 2014-15 AHPRA business plan sets out AHPRA objectives for 2014-15 and how they will be achieved.

6. Accreditation Budget

Under the National Law the board has established an accreditation committee (rather than using an external accreditation entity) The net cost of the committee and delivery of the accreditation activity is included in the consolidated budget for 2014-15 for the board and split out and shown in the tables below.

Schedule 5

Performance Reporting 2014 - 2015

The following principles underpin AHPRA’s commitment to performance reporting:

- Performance measures must be based on consistent and reportable data that is taken from a common electronic data base
- Data for performance measure reporting should be collected automatically as part of a normal business process
- Changes to performance target standards will be based on assessment of current baseline performance and planned initiatives that will impact on baseline
- Priority will be given to performance measures and performance reporting that meets requirements of all boards for registration, notifications, offences, monitoring, and national services.
- Consideration will be given to developing customised reports for the Board where appropriate

Monthly reporting outlines a summary of each program area with respect to current caseload, received and finalised cases, and average age of cases as at the end of the reported month.
