

From: john korber [REDACTED]
Sent: Monday, September 30, 2024 3:45 AM
To: medboardconsultation
Subject: Testing for the older doctor

Dear AHPRA,

My opinion is to leave well alone. This will raise no end of litigation. I am an older doctor with a very busy radiology intervention and diagnosis practice. I am being continually asked not to retire. The young have less experience. They ask a question and order a test. I have seen such poor clinical acumen across the board, being a clinical radiologist. Perhaps you should recommend retesting all doctors every 10 years for simple clinical acumen. Leave it to the CPD programme's.

Kind Regards

Dr John Korber
RANZCR