CRIMINAL HISTORY

Criminal history includes the following, whether in Australia or overseas, at any time:

- every conviction of a person for an offence
- every plea of guilty or finding of guilt by a court of the person for an offence, whether or not a conviction is recorded for the offence, and
- every charge made against the person for an offence.

Under the National Law, spent convictions legislation does not apply to criminal history disclosure requirements. Therefore, you must disclose your complete criminal history as detailed above, irrespective of the time that has lapsed since the charge was laid or the finding of guilt was made. The Board will decide whether your criminal history is relevant to the practice of your profession. You are not required to obtain or provide your Australian criminal history report, Ahpra will obtain this check on your behalf. But if you have not given us certified proof of identity documents since October 2019, you will need to do this first.

Any document containing a photograph must be annotated with the statement 'I certify that this is a true copy of the original and the photograph is a true likeness of the person presenting the document as sighted by me.'

You may be required to obtain international criminal history reports.

For more information, view the full registration standard online at www.psychologyboard.gov.au/Standards-and-Guidelines and the requirements for supplying proof of identity and certified documents at www.ahpra.gov.au/Registration/Registration-Process/Proof-of-Identity and www.ahpra.gov.au/Registration/Registration-Process/Certifying-Documents

IMPAIRMENT

The National Law defines impairment as 'a physical or mental impairment, disability, condition or disorder (including substance abuse or dependence) that detrimentally affects or is likely to detrimentally affect your capacity to practise the profession'.

An illness or health condition that is safely managed is not the same as impairment, as these do not have a detrimental impact on your capacity to practise. Examples you do not need to tell us about include:

- wearing prescription glasses to correct your vision or hearing aids to correct your hearing, or
- seeing a psychologist for anxiety and following a treatment plan.

The National Law requires you to declare any such impairments at the time of renewal, including details of the impairment and how it is managed.

PRACTICE

Practice means any role, whether remunerated or not, in which the individual uses their skills and knowledge as a practitioner in their regulated health profession. Practice is not restricted to the provision of direct clinical care. It also includes using professional knowledge in a direct non-clinical relationship with patients or clients, working in management, administration, education, research, advisory, regulatory or policy development roles and any other roles that impact on safe, effective delivery of health services in the health profession.

PROFESSIONAL INDEMNITY INSURANCE (PII)

You cannot practise as a psychologist in Australia unless you are covered by your own, or third-party professional indemnity insurance (PII) arrangements that meet the requirements of the Board's registration standard. You need to understand how you are covered.

Remember, practising means using your skills and knowledge as a health practitioner in any paid or unpaid role in your profession.

Psychologists are exempt from requiring PII when:

- the scope of practice of an individual practitioner does not include the provision of healthcare or opinion in respect of the physical or mental health of any person
- a practitioner has statutory exemption from liability. That is, they are employed as a practitioner or are in another arrangement and are exempted from liability under state or Commonwealth legislation, or
- practitioners are registered in Australia but are practising exclusively overseas.

Initial registration and annual renewal of registration requires a declaration that you will be covered for all aspects of practice for the whole period of the registration. You may be covered by your Australian employer's PII—you will need to confirm this with your employer.

For more information, view the full registration standard online at www.psychologyboard.gov.au/Standards-and-Guidelines

REGENCY OF PRACTICE

In accordance with the Recency of practice registration standard an individual must, at the time the application for registration or renewal of registration is made, be able to demonstrate that he or she has practised as a registered psychologist or provisional psychologist for a minimum of 250 hours in the past five years.

Individuals who have successfully completed a Board-approved program of study or Board-approved supervised practice program within the past five years will meet the Recency of practice registration standard.

Practitioners who do not meet the recency of practice requirements may be required to undertake remedial action in order to be eligible to renew their registration. Additional guidance on remedial action to meet recency of practice requirements is included in the Policy for recency of practice requirements.

For more information, view the Recency of practice registration standard and the Policy for recency of practice requirements online at www.psychologyboard.gov.au/Standards-and-Guidelines

Obligations of registered health practitioners

The National Law pt 7 div 11 sub-div 3 establishes the legislative obligations of registered health practitioners. A contravention of these obligations, as detailed at points 1, 2, 4, 5, 6 or 8 below does not constitute an offence but may constitute behaviour for which health, conduct or performance action may be taken by the Board. Registered health practitioners are also obligated to meet the requirements of their Board as established in registration standards, codes of conduct and policies.

 - b) the practitioner is convicted of or the subject of a finding of guilt for an offence, whether in a participating jurisdiction or elsewhere, punishable by imprisonment; or
 - c) appropriate professional indemnity insurance arrangements are no longer in place in relation to the practitioner's practice of the profession; or

 - a) a change in the practitioner's principal place of practice;
 - b) a change in the address provided by the registered health practitioner as the address the Board should use in corresponding with the practitioner;

 - (i) the name of the practitioner's employer; and

You need to tell us about any changes to your criminal history in Australia since your last declaration with Ahpra that you haven't already told us about. This will usually be when you applied for registration if you have registered recently or when you last renewed your registration.

The definition of criminal history in the National Scheme is very wide. Before completing this section, read the National Board's registration standard to understand what we mean by criminal history. You can access this information from www.ahpra.gov.au/Registration/Renewal.

1. Since your last declaration to Ahpra, has there been any change to your criminal history in Australia that you have not declared to Ahpra?

☐ Yes – Go to the next question

☐ No – You must tell us within 7 days if at any time during the upcoming registration period in Australia or another country you are:

- charged with an offence punishable by 12 months imprisonment or more, and/or
- convicted of or the subject of a finding of guilt for an offence punishable by imprisonment.

To tell us, complete the Raise a concern form on our website. You can find information about how to complete the form on the Notice of certain events webpage. – Go to question 4

2. Was the change(s) related to any of these?

For more information, see Criminal history in the Information and definitions section of this form.

☐ Traffic (low level)

☐ Public nuisance

☐ Fishing licence

☐ Parking fines

☐ Trespass

☐ None of these

3. We need some more information from you so we can assess your application. This may include conducting an Australian criminal history check. In the text box below tell us:

- the date
- where it happened, including the state or territory
- any ongoing action, and/or
- what the outcome was.

You can also provide a detailed statement and other supporting material (e.g. court documents) in the document to support your application. You need to do this by the renewal due date to avoid late fees.

4. Have you provided identity documents to Ahpra to verify your identity?

As part of our assessment, we need to complete a criminal history check. Before we can complete this check we need to verify your identity. We'll send you an email after you submit your application to explain what you need to do. An incomplete identity verification may delay processing and could result in your application for registration being withdrawn.

☐ Yes

☐ No – You will be asked to complete your identity verification through Ahpra's third party vendor, InstaID+. For further information, please refer to the Proof of identity requirements available at www.ahpra.gov.au/identity

Identity verification

You are required to verify your identity.

To complete your identity check, once your application is received by Ahpra, you will be sent a link with instructions. The link will take you to our third party vendor InstaID+ website.

- You will be asked to take a selfie photo of your face with your photo ID and take photos of your identity documents. This will include any change of name evidence if you have changed your name.
- You can do your identity check from your desktop (with a web camera) or mobile phone.
- Your documents are checked in real-time for authenticity and tampering. Facial recognition and liveness test are completed, and your identity details are checked against issuing authority databases for validity.
