As a Nurse, i do understand and encourage that AHPRA should set an acceptable IELTS score for overseas registered nurse/midwife. It is important that we can communicate properly with our patients. A Minimum IELTS band 7 is acceptable, However, I do appeal that APHRA should be more considerate. For example, a person scores 9 in listening and reading, 7 in speaking but 6.5 in writing with an overall average of 8. They should atleast allow this person to register regardless of the 0.5 difference in writing.

I just like to appeal that maybe they can lower the minimum for the individual score to 6.5 but should maintain an overall average of Above 7.
