

This is just more creeping bureaucracy- you do not give examples of how it will assist you decision making process. You should state how it may assist / interact with credentialing. How are you going to decide if it is appropriate where some one practices?

Cheers