

Communiqué

April 2024 meeting of the Cultural Safety Accreditation and Continuing Professional Development (ACPD) Working Group

The National Scheme in partnership with the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Strategy Group is committed to the National Scheme's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health and Cultural Safety Strategy 2020-2025 (the Strategy).

The Strategy aims to improve the patient safety of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples by eliminating racism from the health system and making cultural safety the norm for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander patients. This includes recognising that patient safety includes the inextricably linked elements of clinical and cultural safety, and that this link must be defined by Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples.

A key deliverable of the Strategy is to develop a multi-year National Accreditation and Continuous Professional Development and upskilling Framework and Strategy for the registered health practitioner workforce.

This deliverable is co-designed by a sub-committee of the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Strategy Group, called the Cultural Safety Accreditation and Continuing Professional Development (ACPD) Working Group with an Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander consultancy, Weenthunga Health Network.

The Cultural Safety ACPD Working Group is chaired by Yawuru woman, Aboriginal Health Council of South Australia CEO and Ahpra Board member, Tanya McGregor. The working group met virtually on Thursday 18th April 2024.

The working group issues a communiqué after each meeting to keep stakeholders informed about its work.

Project deliverables

The project has four key deliverables:

- 1) Literature review (March 2024)
- 2) Market Analysis (April 2024)
- 3) First draft of the Cultural Safety ACPD Framework and Strategy (June 2024)
- 4) Final Cultural Safety ACPD Framework and Strategy (November 2024)

Project deliverables 1 and 2 have been completed.

Market analysis

Members discussed and provided initial reflections on the market analysis report and presentation co-designed with Weenthunga Health Network. The market analysis identified and mapped existing market availability of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and profession specific suppliers of cultural safety training providers coupled with other mainstream suppliers who provide anti-racism training as a training requirement and as a Continuing Professional Development (CPD) registration standard including the accreditation status. In addition, Weenthunga mapped the market analysis against the core elements of the National Scheme's Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health and Cultural Safety Strategy 2020-2025.

Project communication

Members discussed the criticality of the development of the project landing page on the Ahpra website to provide a reference point and further information to key stakeholders about the status of the project.

Information sharing

Members continued to monitor any issues of relevant items and opportunities that may be outside the scope of the project but are important to record and/or act upon.

Other business

Members shared other business aligned to the Cultural Safety ACPD Working Group and project.

Next meeting

The next meeting will be held virtually on 16th of May 2024.
